TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

Open house at the Sewage Treatment Plant will be Friday, Oct. 26, from 1 to 4 p.m.

All night parking ban becomes effective Nov. 1. The penalty is a

$5.00 fine or redeeming the vehicle

from the wrecker service if it is towed away.

The Bethel Savings Bank is having sewage and storm drain pipes installed from their new building at Spring Street. These pipes are being placed under the sidewalk as there are others in the street that would not be at the polls for the special election Nov. 6.

There will be a hearing with the County Commissioners Nov. 17 at will decide what should be done about the old road across Donald Holt's land and inform the selectmen of their findings.

The sympathy of the community goes out to the Howard Dyke family, whose home was badly damaged by fire Wednesday evening. They had just finished putting on new siding which looked very nice. A trailer was moved onto the property Saturday morning. Mr. Dyke has been out of work for quite some time recovering from a gall bladder operation.

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

October has been a good month. The days were bright-leaved and warm, the nights cool but not really cold. I have enjoyed it for I have stood by the pond, feeling the freshness of the air and watched the rings interlock and form patterns on the quiet water. During various times I have looked at the earth under my feet and noted the little crawling things rush under plants or weeds. I have watched the clouds and sky and the changing light. I have set beneath the balsam-firs, their tops so frosted with resin that they glisten in the sun. I have seen the arthritic bumblebee on an early morning before the warmth of the sun hit him. I have walked under the cedars and pines, squirrel territory.

They chattered among themselves nearly voiceless trying to stop my progress through their weakly domain. I watched the ground plants as they faded, darkened, dried, and lay down. I saw the mountain leaves as they changed bit by bit from green to gold; the sumacs and maples to clear deep shades. Thus October has moved on. To quote Samuel Taylor Coleridge, "Why is it so many of us persist in thinking that autumn is a sad season? Nature has merely fallen asleep, and her dreams must be beautiful if we are to judge by her countenance."

After a long time Ruth has again joined me for some hikes. One day we hiked the Moriah Brook Trail with Barbara, Ruth's daughter, and Fay, my sister-in-law. We cooked our lunch out and enjoyed a delightful day.

This week we went to the hills of Sunday River to see the beauty of Bill Branch. There were gorges with high banks so that places the river could be seen far below but not reached. It was a stream of mystery, rendering soft music; songs of the wild at each bend.

We had left the car beyond the twin bridges and followed an old road. It was one of those days when the sunshine would fall softly over the wooded hills, bringing out the colored beauty then maybe in moments hide itself, leaving us waiting with camera poised until it peeled out again. The precise moment was important to capture a fall or the reflection of yellow leaves; a tribute of memory.

We ate our lunch while sitting on a granite slab near mid-stream where we could watch this river and see autumn flowing past. Overhead clouds were traveling from horizon to horizon, like white argosies afloat. When one of them blanketed the hills, I have watched the clouds and sky and the changing light. I have set beneath the balsam-firs, their tops so frosted with resin that they glisten in the sun. I have seen the arthritic bumblebee on an early morning before the warmth of the sun hit him. I have walked under the cedars and pines, squirrel territory.

Beyond me floated a leaf cup containing a drop of water flashing in the sunlight like a tiny jewel.

Looking through the clear water we could see the gray, green, and brown submerged rocks.

I dabbed my fingers in the water and found it cold and refreshing. I had no desire to take a swim.

As I stood up to climb to the road, I noticed a crack starting across the slab on which I had been sitting. I wondered how long it would take for the wash of water, the freezing and thawing, to break this piece of granite. When we left our picnic spot the sky was blue, the water sparkling, the breeze gentle, and the moss at our feet green and soft.

But after spending a few hours with the upland river in its many moods and autumn's staining over the hills we felt that we must retrace our path toward home.

This surely had been a day for walking, scuffling through drifts of fallen leaves, to find the magic that autumn weaves across the land.

Kennebunk citizens with an enabling act for the State Legislature voted to form the present Kennebunk Light & Power District and as before under Maine Public Utilities Commission, the management of the District is supervised by a five man Board of Trustees, elected by the voters and serve without pay.

The original Kennebunk Electric Department, a division of the Town of Kennebunk, did generate and distribute electricity on a very small scale. As demand grew it was apparent that new generating facilities were needed and such generations plants would be expensive to the taxpayer. An alternate solution was to keep the existing facilities and add new generating units.

As the last days of the fall season bless us with a beautiful Indian summer, it's hard to think of the days ahead. In just a couple of days however we'll be up against another time change, one of the first sure signs of winter. In another week, Halloween will be just a memory, and Thanksgiving will be uppermost in our minds. As we get our winter coats out of storage, we can also see our animal friends putting their's on. We all, in our own ways are preparing for the days ahead.

The Mason boys are gathering firewood to sell again this year.

Mary Chapman is still hoping someone has seen or knows the whereabouts of her black and white beagle "Mojit". He is very friendly and will come when you call him.

Carol Mason had the misfortune to get hurt while taking her horse into the barn one day last week. She needed several stitches on her forehead, but she is fine now.

Remember, drive carefully on Halloween night those little ghosts and goblins aren't always as careful as they should be, and they could be yours!

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Kenagh were guests Saturday, Oct. 13, at a surprise 25th wedding anniversary party. The gathering was planned by their children and held at the American Legion Hall in Bethel.

Decorations were the traditional silver bells and streamers with floral arrangements of red roses. The couple was presented with a corsage and boutonniere, compliments of Coburn's Flower Shop. The guest book was circulated by Mrs. Kenagh's sister, Mrs. Virginia Stickney. The groomsman was Miss Judy McAlister, a niece. The couple received a money tree including 23 silver dollars and several beautiful gifts. Music was by David Shuey, a nephew. Harold Carver, friend of the family, made a toast to the honored couple. The cake which was cut and served by their daughter, Mrs. Janet Hutchins, was silver and white with a touch of pink and lavender flowers. The punch was prepared by their son Dennis and the refreshments and punch was served by Mrs. Kenagh's sister-in-law Mrs. Ellen Miltell and several nieces and nephews.

Out of town friends and relatives came from Eatontown, N.J.; New Haven, Conn.; Concord, N.H.; Greenwood, West Paris, South Paris, Norway, Oxford, and Livermore Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenagh have a son, Dennis, a daughter, Janet Hutchins, and two granddaughters, Dennis and Janet Hutchins.

HUNTING LAWS

SAFETY

The Legislature enacted numerous measures this year concerning hunting and fishing, and two of the most important have to do with safety.

First of these laws requires closing the firearms season on coyote hunting with firearms and hunting waterfowl from a blind or in conjunction with must wear an article of fluorescent clothing in good and safe condition and which is visible from all sides.

Second safety measure makes it illegal to hunt from any paved way in the state if "paved" is defined here to mean a surface of man-made materials.

GAS MILEAGE DATA FOR 1974 AUTOMOBILES

By John A. S. McGlenon, Regional Administrator U. S. Environmental Protection Agency

The U. S. Environmental Protection Agency has released the gasoline mileage data on 1974 cars tested under EPA's auto emissions standards compliance program.

The gas mileage data ranges from a high of 29.1 miles per gallon for the 2,000 pound Honda Civic (76 cubic inches, manual 4-speed transmission) to a low in the 5,500 pound category of 6.8 miles per gallon for the Oldsmobile Toronado (455 cubic inches, automatic 3-speed transmission).

The mileage data has been sent to auto manufacturers for use on 1974 car window labels. The labels were developed as part of EPA's voluntary program for posting gasoline mileage on new cars. The auto manufacturers who have notified us of their participation account for 95% of U. S. sales. The 1974 car buyer will know, before he buys the car, how many miles per gallon to expect from that vehicle.

Participating auto makers include: General Motors, Ford, Chrysler, International Harvester, Volkswagen, Datsun, Alfa Romeo, Daimler-Benz, Volvo, Toyota, Saab Scania, British Leyland, Subaru, Lotus, Mercedes-Benz, BMW, Toyota, Renault, and Honda.

The EPA test which produced the 1974 mileage data involves driving a car on a chassis dynamometer which simulates urban driving conditions. The test simulates a 7.3 mile trip at speeds ranging up to 57 miles per hour. This is very close to the average U. S. auto trip of 5.3 miles.

This is the test cycle used in measuring auto air pollution emissions to insure compliance with federal standards.

Several auto makes and models are not included in these initial test results. Because cars are continually being submitted to EPA, all testing will not be completed for several months.

From these tests we can determine the average miles per gallon of all vehicles in the various weight classes.

The following is a summary of the three best vehicles tested in each category (abbreviations used: cu. in. = cubic inches, m. = manual, a. = automatic transmission, m.p.g. = miles per gallon):

2,000 pounds: Honda Civic (76 cu.

Eddie Calderette spent the week end at Lisbon, returning home on Tuesday.

Eveline Barrett was at Charles Knauer's farm in Peru Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Coffin and Jim, Betty Bonney, West Paris, and "Root" Lawrence also called there.

Ernest Brown and three children of South Paris called at Arthur Allen's Sunday.

Graydon Chamberlin has been helping his father shingle his house. Glorious weather for that kind of work.

Television has kept us busy the past week with ball games, both baseball and football, scandals, and what not. Everyday brings something new.

Two holidays within two weeks is alright but the hunters had rather have Veterans Day in November so to get in a day of hunting. Maybe another year will see a change.

TELSTAR J.V. WIN SIXTH

STRAIGHT—DEFEAT LISBON 43-6

Led by the fine running of Ricky Mills, who gained 136 yards on 11 carries, and the passing of quarterback Duffy Ellsworth, who completed six of 10 passes for 173 yards and three touchdowns, the Telstar J.V.'s raced to a 43-6 victory over Lisbon Tuesday afternoon.

In the first quarter, on the third play from scrimmage, Ellsworth threw a 67 yard scoring strike to end Scott Holt for the initial score of the game. Ellsworth booted the first of his five straight extra points for a 7-0 lead. Following a poor Lisbon punt Chris Olson slanted off tackle for three yards and the score, with Ellsworth adding the point-after for a 14-0 first period lead.

The second quarter scoring was done rather quickly as Ellsworth again hit Scott Holt on a 23-yard pass. Then following the ensuing kick-off, the Rebel defense threw Lisbon back to their seven yard line where defensive middle guard Bruce Swan broke through and blocked a Lisbon punt. On the following play Duffy Ellsworth quarterback-snaked for the T. D. and a comfortable 28-0 halftime lead.

The third quarter score came at the four minute mark as Ellsworth hit end Holt with a 14 yard jump pass for a 35-0 lead. Key play in the drive was a fine 20 yard run by Ricky Mills on a third and 14 situation.

Reserve quarterback Mike Dunn replaced Ellsworth at this point and led the Rebels to their final score when fullback Ricky Mills galloped 65 yards to paydirt. On the extra point attempt a 15 yard penalty forced the Rebels into a passing situation as Ellsworth connected with Holt for the two-pointer and 43-0 score.

The lone Lisbon score came with less than four minutes remaining as quarterback Norm Smith threw a 26 yard touchdown pass to end Steve Roop.

The defensive stalwarts led by Swan, Mike Wight, David Webster, Jack Taylor, Ernie Chapman, and Peter Bean held Lisbon to minor yards rushing in a fine display of tough defensive play.

So far this year the J.V.'s have scored 181 points and the defense has allowed only 24 points. The J.V.'s entertain Livermore next Monday at 7:30 for their final game.

ANDOVER ELEMENTARY SCHOOL TO COLLECT FOR UNICEF

This Halloween, students from Andover Elementary School will be collecting for UNICEF. Seven students will be collecting and each house in town will be visited only once by a student from the school.

We will divide the town into sections and each student will take an area. This is being done so that the collection will not be too much of a burden to the citizens.

The students collecting will be from Mrs. Morgan's and Mr. Johnson's rooms. They are Timmy Hall, Mindy McElmurry, Colleen Reilly, Daniel Reilly, Steve Swasey, Karen Swan and Jeff Wardwell.

We understand some other children may be collecting for their church group, but the above children will be the only ones collecting for A. E. S. We will very much appreciate all donations and co-operation and so will children all over the world.

Mrs. Gladys Redmond, Portland, visited Mrs. Sylvia Conroy over the week end.

United Methodist Women will meet on Thursday, Nov. 1, at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Lapham. The program is in charge of Mrs. Sarah Stevens and Bible study is planned.

WOODSTOCK C. OF C.
HOLDS OCTOBER MEETING

The October meeting of the Woodstock Chamber of Commerce came to order at the firemen's hall with six members and one guest present. Minutes of the last week were read and approved. Treasurer reported $179.77 in the checking account and $4.40 in the petty cash fund.

Mr. Stowell from Onyx Printing Company, South Woodstock, presented his mock-up for a Town of Woodstock brochure. It was decided that between now and the next Chamber of Commerce meeting the pamphlet committee would get together and evaluate the various options open to the Chamber and try to form a proposal as to how and where the work should be done.

The subject of postcards depicting a scene or scenes of Woodstock was again raised. It was stated that a minimum order consists of 3,000 copies of a specific picture, one cannot order for example four different postcards with a total number of 3,000. Also each of the postcards must be covered before or within 30 days of printing not as the cards are sold.

The President showed and informed the group that the Chamber is listed in the Maine State Chamber of Commerce Directory.

The suggestion was raised that a committee be formed to co-ordinate and initiate the building of a skating rink near the elementary school. It was suggested that the committee members be two from the Conservation Commission, two school members (either from the school staff or the Board), a contractor, Mrs. Cleo Billings and perhaps two citizen members. Richard Felt and Tom Thurston were duly nominated and voted in as the Chamber's representatives to this committee. They will now contact other individuals and see if they would be willing to serve on the committee.

The President read a letter he had written to the Department of Transportation re: the installing of a light at the sharp turn by the post office.

It was mentioned that there is slight representation on the Chamber from either North or South Woodstock and an invitation is hereby extended to all residents of these two areas to come to our meetings and avail themselves of the opportunity to seek action on improving their communities. The next meeting will be held on Nov. 14.

Burnham Rice is a patient at the Veteran's Hospital, Togus.
